

Your supply chain can mean the difference between a costly, bottleneck ridden operation barely able to keep up with your customers' demands or a smooth running process that meets your customers' needs and provides your company with a competitive advantage.

LogiSite is a full-featured supply chain optimization, site location and distribution network modeling application available on the web from IntelLogistix that quickly solves even your most complex supply chain problems:

- ✚ What is the optimum distribution network that reduces your transportation, warehousing, and inventory costs?
- ✚ How do you balance supply chain costs and customer demands for better, on time service?
- ✚ What site locations and service areas provide the most efficient and cost effective distribution?
- ✚ Should you source products from off shore or domestic suppliers?
- ✚ How should you bundle products, consolidate vendors, divisions, and shipments to reduce your total supply chain costs?

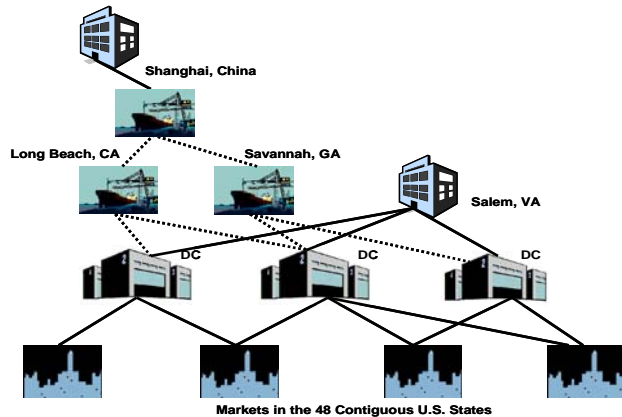

LOGISITE PROVIDES OPTIMUM SOLUTIONS, CLEAR REPORTS AND PRESENTATION MAPS WITH A MINIMUM OF DATA SETUP AND WITHOUT COMPLEX CUSTOMIZATION REQUIREMENTS.

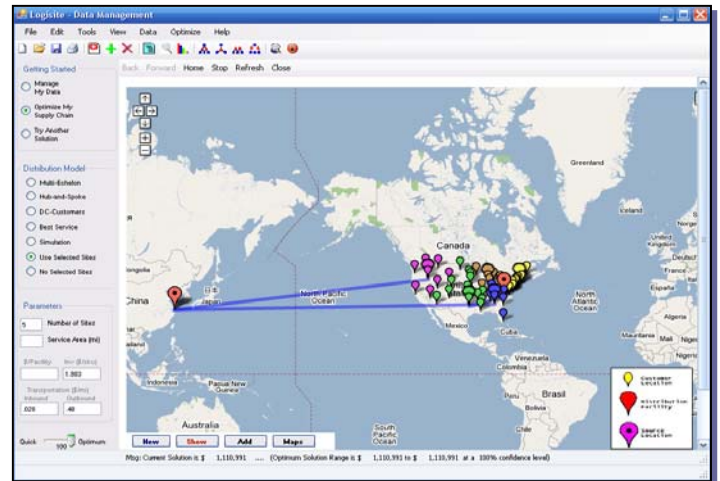

Typical savings are 10%-30% with improved customer service and supply chain performance.

Quick Solutions to Complex Problems

LogiSite is a web-based solution you can use to answer your everyday questions about your distribution network, try different "What-if" scenarios or solve more complex, strategic planning and business issues.

LogiSite is licensed on a subscription basis with no annual maintenance or implementation fees. You simply subscribe for the period of time you need and pay a monthly fee and small set up charge.

Who Should Use LogiSite?

- ✚ retailers concerned with product sourcing issues ensuring products are on the shelf in sufficient quantities, at the right price at the right time;
- ✚ food and beverage companies leveraging multiple carriers and distribution facilities to handle bundled deliveries of products;
- ✚ high-tech manufacturers speeding product to market and fighting high obsolescence and inventory costs;
- ✚ logistics service providers working with prospective clients to use their services;

LogiSite provides solutions in minutes that drive down logistics costs and enable you to improve customer service levels and fine-tune supply chain performance.

Support and Training to Fit Your Needs

LogiSite's web-based solution is supported by experienced supply chain professionals, consulting services and training.

IntelLogistix provides supply chain solutions to support our customers' strategic planning and rigorous cost cutting requirements. IntelLogistix' serves transportation, manufacturing, retail, high-tech and consumer products companies. Specializing in supply chain management, strategic planning software and ERP consulting services, IntelLogistix delivers proven value, industry knowledge and systems expertise.

Also from IntelLogistix - LogiScan[®] analyzes your transport modes, carriers, and entry ports including transit times and effects on inventory and service levels, inventory buffer stocks and total end-to-end supply chain costs. Aids in carrier negotiations, what-if analyses, sourcing and supply chain strategies.

For a free demo or to sign up today, go to www.IntelLogistix.com or call (703) 796 0141