

Buddhist Peace Fellowship — Cleveland

Seeking to link Buddhist teachings of wisdom and compassion with progressive social change.

The Cleveland Chapter of the Buddhist Peace Fellowship was founded in July 2005 by individuals who practice with a number of Northeast Ohio Buddhist groups.

As an official BPF chapter, the Cleveland Chapter adheres to the national organization's ecumenical principals. We welcome individuals of all faith traditions who are interested in supporting our mission to serve as a catalyst and agent for socially engaged Buddhism.

For more info, contact:

Mark McDermott: (216) 651-5904

E-mail: mcdwizard@yahoo.com

Web: members.cox.net/bpfcleveland

The Buddhist Peace Fellowship (www.bpf.org) was founded in 1978. Headquartered in San Francisco, BPF now has more than 35 U.S. chapters and 4,000 members internationally. BPF is an ecumenical network that promotes communication and cooperation among Buddhist individuals and groups in their work of nourishing all beings and resisting the forces of exploitation and war.