

For God's Sake

How willing am I to ...

- obtain the prize of God's intimate companionship
- gain the joy of clearly hearing His voice
- find the pleasure of His Spirit guiding me and teaching me

To answer those questions, I need to ask myself a few more questions:

For the sake of knowing God more intimately...

- what am I willing to endure?
- what am I willing to lose?
- what am I willing to do?
- how much time am I willing to spend?
- what am I willing to give?

God's desire is for me alone. He doesn't want my bank account, my talents, my good deeds... He wants ME.

How much I want Him is evidenced by my answers to those questions.

*"Help me Lord, to want You above all that this body, life, and universe have to offer.
Help me to place you first with every breath of my being."*
