

I never did acquire this CD from Microsoft and I allowed Microsoft's Updates to apply the Service Pack. Nevertheless I used PE 3.1.10a and the install files required to make PE's ISO file contain that level (I thought). My Drive A would be a floppy in anycase, but I thought a BartPE disk was self sufficient?

Please insert the disk labeled
Windows XP Home Edition Service Pack 1 CD into Drive A:

* Press ENTER when ready.

Trying to enter or exit from here does not afford me even rudimentary access to the file system on the PC involved.

I am assuming that I erred, not that someone else erred, and I am also assuming that I can get help and or guidance here on this forum.

Thanks in advance!

ENTER-Continue F3-Exit

08.14.2009